

2007 Big 7 Baseball Selections

by Vic Doane

The spring season is complete, and the Big 7 Baseball All-League team is complete as well. Jefferson West led the 2007 Big 7 All-League Team, with four athletes on this year's squad as voted on by the coaches.

They included pitcher/infielder Alex Schell, catcher Brock Anderson, outfielder Brayden Black and Josh Baker. Maur Hill had three selections, with the Ravens placing pitcher/outfielder Matt Minnis, infielder Jordan Eckert, and Cole Scherer.

The team also included two apiece from Holton and Royal Valley. The Panthers' pitcher Josh Streeter was on the coaches' ballots, as was Jesse Kutina. Holton had junior infielder Cory Wilson named, as well as outfielder Kyle Porter.

Rounding out the All-League picks were infielder Andrew Eckert and utility player Derek Oswald of ACCHS.
