

2006 Big 7 All-League Softball Team

Story by Justin Fluke

The Big 7 has announced the 2006 All-League Softball Selections. Champion Jeff West and runner-up by one game, Holton, each placed four members on the first team.

Three of the Lady Tiger selections were unanimous including pitcher Haleigh Foster, catcher Kyane Stortzum, and outfielder Janae Vanderslice, while Ally Scott represented the infield and Becca Rodecap received honorable mention.

Holton didn't have any unanimous picks, but Sarah Coverdale and Stephanie Synder were the top utility players in the league. Alicia Coverdale was an All-League pitcher and Sami Lambrecht was tops in the outfield. Jen Cordell was named honorable mention infielder for the Cats.

Third place ACCHS had two unanimous picks in outfielder Maura Sheeley and infielder Megan Thompson, while Liz Thompson earned honorable mention.

Janell Stithem was an unanimous infield pick from Royal Valley while Ashley Chance earned honorable mention, and Hiawatha's lone selection was Brooklyn Blevins who was a first-team infielder.
